

A 1) Alice's Adventures in Wonderland (AIW)

1875	Lize's avonturen in 't Wonderland   	Nijmegen: Blomhert & Timmerman	Mark Prager Lindo? J.J.A. Goeverneur?	John Tenniel	1st Dutch (adapted) edition. No author and no translator given. Very rare. There are only a few original copies worldwide known. As far as is known KB (Royal Library) has a copy without the beautiful book cover and there are two (one cardboard copy, one without last page) in private property in The Netherlands. Adaptation of the first 8 chapters, no poems. Chapters IX to XII are almost entirely omitted. 8 Colour lithographs. 1st Alice colour illustrations worldwide. This book (A4-format) has 21 pages and consists of the first 8 shortened chapters of the original "Alice" and 4 pages with 7 ever first worldwide coloured Tenniel-illustrations (by Emrik and Binger). All poems are omitted. According to the reference-book "Lust en Leering" (2001) by the married couple Buijnsters the adaption is by Mark Prager Lindo (1819-1877). But probably J.J.A. Goeverneur is a better option! See webshop www.lewiscarrollgenootschap.nl for buying a beautiful Lize-facsimile. See also item 2021.

1887	Alice in het land der droomen  	Amsterdam: Jan Leendertz & Zoon	Eleonora Mann	Anonymous	2 Different covers (flowers with first name Eleonore, ornament with first name Eleonora), 4 colour lithographs. First worldwide coloured illustrations not by or after John Tenniel. Bound (flowers) in dark blue, dark green or dark red linen, ornament only bound in red or blue linen. Translated from the 72nd thousand of the standard red Macmillan edition (1883). Lewis Carroll not mentioned. (Published May 1887). Rare, 14x19.5 cm, 136p. In 2008 a facsimile was adapted by H. D. van Arkel and distributed by Chipmunk International as third edition. See also 1890 (second edition) and 2008 (reprint).
1893	Alice in het land der droomen 	Amsterdam: B. H. Smit.	Eleonora Mann	Anonymous	Second printing of previous item, 3 colour lithographs same as in 1st printing (the one with Alice and her sister sitting on a bench is omitted, probably because of a translation mistake, the English word "bank" was translated by the Dutch word "bank"). 2 Different covers (ducks, ornament). The "duck-ones" bound in lightgreen, darkgreen, lightblue, darkblue or red linen. The "ornament" one only bound in red linen. Lewis Carroll not mentioned; 13.5x19.4 cm, 176 p. The green one in the right upper corner of the 6 books has a different cover type-setting.

1899	Alice's avonturen in het wonderland		Leiden: Boekhandel en Drukkerij voorheen E. J. Brill.	R. ten Raa	John Tenniel	2 Different front covers (sleeping Alice from The Nursery Alice (1890), ornament). Bound in grey- green (15.8x21.6 cm) or beige linen (15.3x21 cm). The 1 st poem and chapter X are missing, 40 out of the original 42 illustrations (the 2 original illustrations from chapter X are missing of course). 1st Acceptable translation. Foreword by R. ten Raa. 146 p. Three pages of advertisements at the end.
1901	Alice's avonturen in het wonderland		Rotterdam: D. Bolle.	R. ten Raa	John Tenniel	Vulnerable sewn-up edition. Paperback format. Same content as 1899, but different cover. Hard to find in original format.
1912	Alice's avonturen in het wonderland		Leeuwarden: Hepkema & van den Velde.	R. ten Raa	Brinsley Le Fanu	2 Small pockets (12.2 × 18 cm), 2 volumes (I-II). Price 10 cts. Very vulnerable edition. Each pocket 59 p. Series: Books for boys and girls , 28–29. Translator's name not mentioned, but the text is almost the same as 1899 apart from a different foreword. Also later on also published with same cover and prices 12,5 cts, 15 cts (1922) and 20 cts.(1929). In 1929 also published in daily paper Leeuwarder Nieuwsblad . After the 20 cts. edition the seriesname changed to Illustrated "Owls" children-series . (1941?). See picture. (11.9 × 16.9 cm).

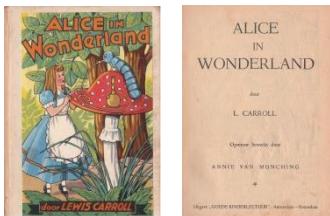

1920	Alice in wonderland	 	Amsterdam: Van Holkema & Warendorf	R. ten Raa	Arthur Rackham	Limited decorated bounded luxury edition (550 copies).
